STAGE LINES.

THE GREAT OVERLAND MAIL ROUTE
TO
San Francisco
AND
NEW YORK.

THE COACHES OF THE OREGON and California Stage Company will make regular connection with the Oregon & California Railroad Company, in Oregon, and the Central Pacific Railroad Company in California.

Passengers now going through, Overland, will have

THREE HUNDRED MILES OF Railroad Travel,

Connecting at the Junction in California with the Great Overland Railroad to the Eastern cities.

Time through to San Francisco..........5 days.
" " New York..........12 "

Passengers allowed to lay over along the route.

Those who travel by this route avoid the dangers of the sea and that dreaded and terrible feeling of sea-sickness. The wild picturesque scenery, beautiful valleys and snow-capped mountains, alone, doubly pay the tourist for a trip over this route.

The route passes through the principal agricultural districts of Oregon, the valleys of the Willamette, Umpqua and Rogue River. To the immigrant coming here in search of a home or investment, this route is strongly recommended.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS ITEMS.

On the evening of the 27th ult. the magnificent dwelling of General McClellan, at Lewellyn Park, Orange, N. J., was totally destroyed by fire. It was one of the most elegant residences in that vicinity, and valued at $50,000. The General was not occupying the residence. It was in charge of his servants.

A New York dispatch of the 28th ult. says: Money was loaned freely in the forenoon at 7, gold, but it suddenly became close in the afternoon, and a quarter per cent. over the gold rate was paid. The engineers of the movement for a stringency threaten that to-morrow and next day the stringency will be greater than on any previous day.

A Chicago dispatch of the 29th ult. gives this: The contest in this State for United States Senatorship, in place of Yates, is growing daily warmer, and exciting greater interest. Extraordinary efforts are being made to defeat John A. Logan, who, until recently, was supposed to be certain of election. It seems to be the growing opinion now that while Logan will probably receive the caucus nomination, there will be a sufficiently steady combination against him to defeat him in the Legislature. The most prominent candidate against him is Ex-Governor Oglesby. The names of Ex-Lieutenant Governor Koerner and Ex-Auditor Dubois are also mentioned as candidates.

FOREIGN NOTES.

The London Spectator has come to the sage conclusion that "M. de Gortschakoff has learned manners." What a disinterested spectator.

Ladies in Paris are now said to gaze at delicate sirloins and steaks hung up in butcher-shops with the same curiosity as they used to peep at ribbons and laces for sale.

At the commencement of the war the French had 139 regiments of regulars. Only 10 are left. The Germans have also captured 500,000 Chassepot guns and 3,600 cannon.

There is mounted at Mont Valerien, one of the French defenses, the most formidable siege gun now in France. It is called Marie Jeanne, and throws shot of 450 pounds six miles.

It is stated that no one now in Paris and at Tours is in favor of holding the elections. All desire that the war should go on to the end. The probabilities are very strong that it will.

A strong earthen barricade has been erected before the cages of the lions, leopards, tigers and panthers in the Jardin des Plantes, at Paris, to prevent their escape in the event of a projectile destroying the bars of their cages.

The Shah of Persia, who is a pilgrim to the holy shrine of Korbela, lately passed through Bagdad accompanied by a suite of 10,000 persons. The horses and other beasts of burden composing this caravan, numbered upward of 15,000.

Queen Victoria has now nine grand-sons and eight grand daughters, together seventeen grand children, of whom the Crown Prince of Prussia gives five, (one died in 1866) the Prince of Wales five, the Princess Alice five, and the Princess Helena two. And the Queen has still five unmarried children.

A correspondent of the Nord says he has seen McMahon's report on the affair at Sedan. The Marshal entirely exculpates the Emperor, by whom, he states, he was left completely unfettered. His own intention had been to retreat with the army to Paris, but he yielded at last to precise orders of the Empress, which were inspired by M. Rouher and de Palikao.

Some experiments have been made in the grounds attached to the School of St. Remy, France, as to the useful qualities of the common mole. A mole was placed in a shrubbery, and in four days he ate 432 wornils and 250 grubs. Another mole in twelve days ate 510 grubs and 872 wornils. Vegetable matter, such as was believed to be his usual food, was placed before him, but he never touched it except to make his bed upon it. The devastations in the soil committed by the mole are more than counterbalanced by his destruction of noxious insects.

The Reveil the other day announced to the people of Paris that an army of 800,000 men was under arms and ready to march to their relief. The Rappel declares that the army of Paris is impatient to be led to battle, and has the presentiment of success. "The German army outside of the walls is in a state of dissolution. The Prussians and Bavarians hate one another, and this day week were firing upon one another. The siege works cannot be used against Paris, as they are tumbling down, their foundations having been weakened owing to the rains." It is by just such trash as the above that the unfortunate Parisians are deluded into the belief that they can indefinitely postpone the inevitable.

The Spectator waxes facetious over balloons and carrier-pigeons. It says: "Science has done a great deal for the besieged French, not only in the way of balloons, but in the way of photography. We understand that the messages by carrier-pigeon are usually written on a piece of thin paper, not nearly four square inches in extent, which is put into a quill, [illegible] fastened to one of the tail-feathers of the pigeon. Upon this little scrap of paper is photographed, in characters far too small to be either written or read without the most microscope, an immense number of messages. The little scrap is divided into four columns, the first column describing the nature of the document, and the other three filled with Government messages. What a blessing it would be to have all dispatches so sent, even in time of peace! Imagine the Colonial Office limited to three-quarters of four square inches, and compelled to read its dispatches by the aid of a powerful microscope. The colonies would soon get quite friendly with us under such a regime as that."

CURRENT NOTES.

A sixteen-year old damsel awaits trial in the Dartford, Wisconsin, jail, for horse-stealing.

A St. Paul millionaire makes himself popular with the lower classes by eating $10 greenbacks when he is drunk.

An Ohio chiropodist travels in a wagon built and painted like a human foot, with corns and bunions all over it.

Edmund About's peace article in the Paris Soir is used as a "campaign" document by Bismarck. What is Edmund about?

Prairie chickens are so numerous in Illinois this season that numbers are killed by flying against the telegraph wires.

A Los Angeles (Cal.) paper is "glad to see that the most of citizens have had sense enough to return to the use of the bowie-knife."

There are two reasons why some people don't mind their own business. One is that they haven't any business, and the second is that they have no mind.

One Youssee, at Monticello, Iowa, gives everybody notice that he has made his wife a "free gift of $5000," and nobody need send him any of her bills, for he won't pay them.

The New Orleans Republican of a late date devotes nearly a column to a description of a public drinking fountain of unique design, about to be erected in one of the streets of the Crescent city.

G. Bengston, of Lynn township, Henry county, Illinois, with four others, made a single haul of 30,000 pounds of fish from a small lake tributary to the Mississippi, about four miles from New Britain.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Hon. Oliver Wyatt, of Dover, is a new candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of New Hampshire. The Enquirer, of that city, supports him.

Ex-Gov. Oglesby is said to have eighty-four votes pledged to him for Senator from Illinois. A new candidate for the position has appeared in Judge Gillespie.

Taking the speech of McCreery and the election of Vance as indications of Southern feeling the Pittsburg Gazette fears that immediate general amnesty is not advisable.

On the 14th of December, 1870, the Montgomery, (Ala.) Advertiser informed it readers that the late civil war was "forced upon an unwilling South" by a "Northern and Western mob."

The re-apportionment of representation is a duty which Congress, in the view of the Chicago Tribune, must attend to as promptly as the completion of the census renders it practicable.

The acquisition of San Domingo is favored by the St. Joseph (Mo.) Herald, that fertile island being in its opinion a paradise, compared with Alaska, "where the prowling wolves howl the notes of starvation."

The Galveston News is of the opinion that the people of the South fully understand the political issues of the day, and, in fact, are "more familiar with the underlying facts" than are the people of the North.

The impeachment of Gov. Holden, of North Carolina, is welcomed by the Raleigh Standard, because it will give him an opportunity to justify his official acts before the world, whatever may be its results before a partisan Legislature.

The New Orleans Picayune contends that the American people are not prepared for war with any nation of respectable power, because of our want of unity, our want of patriotic honesty, our want of military spirit, and our want of military talent.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican opposes the election of chaplains in Legislative bodies, saying those who most need praying for never appear until the chaplain has left; and the Portland (Me.) Advertiser inquires if it isn't of any use to pray for a man unless he is present to hear you.

John S. Phelps, A. J. P. Garesche and Samuel T. Glover are the prominent Democratic candidates for the Senate in Missouri. The Republicans are now quiet, but David Wagner, who has just been re-elected Chief-Justice of the Supreme Court without opposition, will be urged upon them as a very strong candidate.

The Washington Chronicle urges that amnesty should not be granted until it is proved to be deserved by those who are most anxious for it. It thinks the first duty of the Republicans is to the loyal men in the South, and that these cannot be helped by enfranchising those who have persecuted and would ostracize them.

The nomination of General Pleasonton for Commissioner of Internal Revenue is received by many Republican journals with much favor. The Rochester Democrat, for instance, says that he has the experience and personal qualities necessary to success, and that, under his administration, the revenues will be faithfully collected, the burdens of taxation equitably adjusted, and material interests of the people wisely promoted.

The Worcester (Mass.) Spy is willing the rebels should have amnesty, but not restoration to political power. It says: "There should be some thing in our historical record to show that the Government was not wholly indifferent to the crime of treason; and the least that can now be done is to leave those guilty of this crime where the Thirteenth Amendment has left them, with very little use of the [illegible] power of Congress over the matter."

The speech of Senator Schurz is variously commented upon by the press. By it the Newark Advertiser is prompted to say that the Republicans should relieve the ex-rebels from all political disabilities that they may not be anticipated by the Democrats in that work of conciliation and expediency. And, alluding to that "ideal party of the future," the Revenue Reformers, the Advertiser says the real "quarrel" between the East and the West is the cost of transportation, and that there is no redress for this in revenue reform, simply because there is nothing to be redressed. "This ideal party of the future," it says, "belongs in that fabled land of plenty where the suckling pigs run around ready roasted, with a knife and a fork in their backs and a lemon in their mouths, squealing for some one to eat them."

THE WOMEN OF MEN NOVELISTS, AND MEN OF WOMEN NOVELISTS.—The novels which treat of women but are written by men may be roughly divided into three kinds: Those of the old fashioned class, which recognize in each woman a ministering angel (in lower life this sentiment is expressed by toasting: "The ladies, God bless 'em); those which depict women as irresistible but charming tyrants, against whom it is hopeless to contend, and to whose apron strings it is the best thing that can befall a man that he should be securely tied; the third sort show women as sometimes wicked and sometimes foolish—those who are wicked influence men, those who are only foolish do the same; so that diverse causes in this instance produce the same results, and in any case we are doomed. But, if we turn to lady novelists, we find them mercilessly exposing the silliness, littleness, and empty-headedness of their sex, while men are deified either for their gigantic proportion, their immense strength of will, [illegible] repressed [illegible] from fear, or their horribly fascinating wickedness and unscrupulous licentiousness. And yet women are not all silly and empty-headed; we are not as a rule gigantic in stature; our will, if the truth be known, often vacillates sadly, and is at last made up by a series of minute considerations quite out of proportion with the magnitude of the questions sometimes involved; and, though some of us are wicked and some of us are licentious, we are, alas! few of us in the least degree fascinating. Yet endowed (in print) with these excellent qualities, women, whether virtuous, wicked or only weak, are our devoted admirers and unresisting slaves, not to say victims.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A MAN WANTS TO BE HUNG.—The sentence of Connelly, who has for some time been awaiting death on the gallows, at Columbia, Missouri, for the murder of Mrs. Moore, having been twice respited, has been commuted to imprisonment for life by Gov. McClurg. When the jailor communicated to him this last action of the Governor, he became enraged and remarked: "This is the [illegible]dest country on the earth, and has the poorest laws. I have been lying here in prison for months. My execution, for which everything has been made ready, has been twice put off, and now I am to go to the penitentiary for life, instead of being hung, as I wanted to be." He was evidently disappointed in not being permitted to meet death on the scaffold, having all the while since his incarceration expressed himself as desiring to be hung. A very large portion of the community think he should have been accommodated. Every preparation had been made by the Sheriff for his execution; his coffin and all the paraphernalia of a murderer's death at the hands of the law were ready. The scaffold was erected about one mile southeast of town, in a secluded and lonely spot in the woods. Connelly, when he took his departure for the penitentiary, still regretted that he could not be hung, instead of going to the State prison.

The Chances for France.

WANT OF UNITY IN THE PRUSSIAN COUNCILS—THE FRENCH MORE ABLE TO RESIST THAN IN THE BEGINNING—THEIR LEADERS THE ABLEST IN EUROPE—THE LEVEE EN MASSE.

(The following is a letter from London (Dec. 11) to the New York Times. The writer is clearly a strong partisan of France, but well give his letter as a view of the situation from a French standpoint.—ED. OREGONIAN.)

It was reported, yesterday, that Paris had surrendered—but I have no belief that such an event can occur this side of Christmas and the Germans cannot much expect it, for their arrangements at Versailles extend [illegible] way into January. But why is there no bombardment? Mr. Russell writes, "If it depended on Bismarck, Paris would [illegible] to-morrow." There is [illegible] Prussian councils. [illegible] has been influenced [illegible] does not see his way [illegible] success [illegible] the great guns are as useless as if they had been left in Germany. [illegible] a day, and the effort [illegible] two forts, and then [illegible] tal. Only the Germans now are [illegible] the defensive, repulsing sorties, [illegible] attacks. The numbers are against them. The French Army, in and out of Paris, must [illegible] nearly double the number of the Germans, and the French bear so much [illegible] they are in a fair way to wear [illegible] invaders.

PROSPECTIVE [illegible]

On the [illegible] journals [illegible] prospects of France hopeless, [illegible] instant submission. Paris could not hold out a week; there was no Government, [illegible] of raising new armies; France [illegible] further effort madness. [illegible] vised Germany to make [illegible] peace, make friends with France [illegible] an example to the world. Germany chose to prosecute [illegible] vengeance and undying [illegible] France [illegible] by [illegible] he [illegible] Germany has [illegible] France is far more able to resist than she was at the beginning, and less likely to make a humiliating peace than two months ago. Germany has a wolf by the ears, hard to hold, and dangerous to let go. The war has lasted [illegible], and the French are learning to fight under the ablest masters in Europe, and seem likely to prove apt pupils. Europe, at first astonished by German success, begins to feel sympathy for the sufferings and admiration for the heroic struggles of France. The Prussians begin to murmur at the continuance of the war, which might have ended in glory two months ago, and are sorry that they ever made the gigantic mistake of the siege of Paris, which now they [illegible] to starve if they cannot [illegible].

GERMAN DI[illegible]

There is a [illegible] of German official dispatches. At first they were all true and the French false; now the French are more moderate, and many things more truthful. The German accounts of the victory [illegible] the sorties from Paris and the [illegible] of the Army of the Loire are looked upon with great suspicion. At Amiens the depleted French forces, after fighting all day, [illegible] supposing they had repulsed the enemy, suddenly found themselves flanked by heavy German reserves and were obliged to retreat. At Paris the German reported losses are absurdly out of proportion to the reported fighting, while the affair in the direction of Orleans, represented as the utter route of the French, who are said to have "withdrawn," is believed to have been merely the result of a reconnoissance in force. But you will soon know, rather you have already heard all about it.

THE LEVEE EN MASSE.

The [illegible] some time [illegible] preparation, [illegible] ordered within the next ten days [illegible] between two and four millions of [illegible] to assemble in camps of instruction. Many have arms already, and the rest will have them as fast as they can be made or procured. Every department is to provide artillery, and melt the church bells if necessary. If Gambetta can keep his head and not quarrel with all [illegible] the vast forces [illegible] gathering the Germans must be overwhelmed by the mere force of numbers [illegible] rapid and desperate fighting. The Germans [illegible] they are [illegible] believe that Paris [illegible] famine and must surrender. [illegible] to me that they would [illegible] attempt to reduce it by bombardment. [illegible] that it is impossible. I [illegible] have not been very hopeful of French victories, but I believe that an invading army may be worn out by its successes, as the armies of England were in the Revolutionary War in America. For seven years it was a series of retreats and disasters to the Continental army. Every important town was taken and held, and the country, year after year, seemed conquered beyond all power of resistance. With the same obstinate spirit, surely France can do far more with its compact population and immense resources. France sent arms to America then—now she is being repaid; and France now, like America then, is fighting the Hessians.

ENGLISH AFFAIRS.

The war in France, and the expected war with Russia, absorb almost all interest in England. The newspapers have for some weeks been occupied [illegible] Boards under the new law, but I doubt if their appeals have found many readers. The Queen went yesterday to visit the Empress Eugenia at Chiselhurst at the moment telegrams informed us that the Empress was in Brussels, engaged in some new scheme of Imperial restoration. The panic in the money market has subsided, on account of the hopes of a conference, but how can there be a conference while two of the most important co-signatories to the treaty are at war with each other, and how can any of the treaty Powers enter into a conference with Russia until the note has been formally withdrawn? The hope of peace is mainly in the fact that Germany wants time, and in her present stress must avoid new complications. Bismarck will do his best to induce Russia to withdraw, for the present, at least, her challenge to Europe. After the fall of Paris and the conquest of France, it will be time to see what shall become of Turkey and Austria, the Black Sea and the Baltic, Egypt, and India. In any case, the next session of Parliament will be one of the most interesting of the present century. Stocks were buoyant yesterday, partly because there is a prospect of a peaceful settlement of the Eastern question—partly because it was expected that Paris would capitulate in a few days, which would lead to peace between France and Prussia. But the speculators may be mistaken as to both contingencies. Paris may hold out, and Paris is not France. The Eastern question, furthermore, cannot be settled without France, nor is there much probability that it will be settled to suit England and Austria, and against the interests of Prussia and Russia. At the utmost, the question which involves war or surrender to England, or a dishonorable bargain, and participation in the spoils, can only be postponed for a short period. It is the rock ahead of Europe. Germany might secure the peace of Europe. She has the position and the power to do so; but, unfortunately, Germany is the most warlike of nations. A nation of duelists and soldiers, full of ideas of martial glory, making war as we see it made in France, is not likely to make peace. The influence and example of Germany are more likely to fill Europe with soldiers.

A Maiden of Sixty-five Married a Young Man of Twenty-three.

It isn't often that we have to record the marriage of blushing youth to an ancient maiden; but here is a story of such a performance, related by a St. Louis correspondent:

A fashionable boarding house, on a fashionable [illegible] in this fashionable "[illegible] an incident occurred recently [illegible] romantic a nature as to deserve [illegible] notice. The house was, but is [illegible] kept by a maiden lady who, of the [illegible] vouchsafed mankind, had passed three score and five years, and in the [illegible] of her establishment she was [illegible] a bright lad of [illegible] Miss [illegible] (for such was her name), [illegible] one of the most notable boarding house keepers I ever heard of, has by close attention to business and personal supervision of her household affairs accumulated a snug little fortune, to wit: [illegible] forty thousand dollars, and was very comfortably situated. Last summer a [illegible] fashionable young man, apparently about twenty-three years of age, came here from England and engaged at a high figure an elegantly furnished room and board at the house of [illegible]. He [illegible] to [illegible] business and for a time paid his monthly bills with the regularity of clockwork. It was noticed, however, that he no longer wore the costly jewelry he displayed on his arrival, and it soon became painfully apparent to the landlady that he was out of funds. She seized upon his trunk and contents during his absence one day, which she [illegible] laws, and he [illegible] a writ of replevin for the recovery of [illegible] property, and accompanied an officer [illegible] to obtain it. The constable took a seat in the hall while the young man and the lady [illegible] in the parlor. The [illegible] was the young man came out and paid the costs that had accrued, and gave [illegible] for the dismissal of the suit. He had offered the spinster his hand and heart, which she accepted.

Survey of the North Pacific.

[From the Helena (Montana) Herald.]

We noticed in one of the St. Paul papers, a [illegible] time since, the arrival at that place of a party of surveyors who had been out on the [illegible] Pacific [illegible]. More recently an extended account of their survey and the incidents pertaining thereto have been published [illegible] a matter of interest to all Montanians we give them the following condensed items from the published report: The party suffered severely in the latter part of October from a snow storm. The snow fell so thickly that they could only take the direction in which they wished to travel by allowing the [illegible] to strike them on a particular side of the [illegible]. They went three days' march up the Yellowstone river followed by hostile Indians all the way, who finally made an attack and stampeded fifteen of their horses. The return march to Fort Buford was made in [illegible]. Good country was found as far as they penetrated. The point for crossing the Missouri has not yet been decided on; nor has it [illegible] been decided to cross the Missouri at all. Much exploration must be made before the best route can be found. The road will undoubtedly strike the Missouri at Fort Stevenson at all events, as that is the nearest point on the river to Devil's Lake and Fort [illegible] should it be decided to cross the [illegible] point could be found near Fort Stevenson. The vast beds of lignite found near the latter place would also [illegible] the railroad company to establish [illegible] works there. It is the general impression [illegible] the river that a military force will be sent up the Yellowstone during the coming spring for the permanent occupation of that country. [illegible] to the effect that the [illegible] infantry is to be concentrated [illegible] stationed at Fort Buford next spring, [illegible] from expressions and intimations that [illegible] from an officer in high position. It is certain that Fort Buford, now a three-company post, is to be rebuilt and made a ten-company post. The work will commence next year as soon as the weather will permit. Fort Buford will also be made the base of supplies for the forces to be sent up the Yellowstone. It is thought by many that as only [illegible] to the northward, the Northern Pacific Railroad Company can [illegible] will confine itself to the northern side of the river. In this case Fort Buford will become an important point, and a thriving town will probably spring up [illegible] immediate vicinity.

Military Power and Resources of the Sultan.

[From the [illegible] correspondence.]

In the [illegible] events the following [illegible] progress and strength of the Turkish army has a special interest: It appears certain to those who have watched for the last few years the development of the organization of the Turkish army, and seen its various corps in action and en neglige, that it has become [illegible] equal to any troops that Russia could [illegible] In 1828 and 1854 the Russians were unable to gain any decisive victory over the Turks, and since then the military administration of the Porte has fully taken advantage of every modern improvement. The whole of the infantry, cavalry and scientific corps are provided with Sniders, and the artillery with five-barrelled revolvers. The reserve and militia have as yet only had Minie rifles, but they will also be armed with Sniders shortly.

Another important element of the new system, the education of officers, has been thoroughly attended to, and the military academies now furnish yearly about 120 officers, who are employed partly on the staff and partly in the various corps of the army. The old plan of employing foreigners as officers, which did not work so well, has been abandoned, and their places filled by natives, who, by a thorough course of study, both at home and abroad, have made themselves masters of the latest improvements in the art of war. The relations between officers and men are still on a sort of patriarchal footing, which, however, is rather an advantage when combined with the excellent discipline now preserved in all the branches of the army. The non-commissioned officers, too, have great influence and authority, and considerable privileges have lately been granted in order to induce them to remain in the service. The clothing of the army is very comfortable and practical, and the knapsacks are reduced to the lowest possible weight. The cavalry is admirably mounted, and the artillery wagons are everything that the most exacting soldier can desire.

As for the men, they form almost as good materiel for an army as any that can be found in Europe. Patient, obedient and intelligent, they endure hardships of every kind without a murmur, and are exceedingly skillful and quick in all military maneuvers.

The Railroad Problem.

The address by the Railroad Committee which has been published in our columns does not, in the opinion of the most intelligent men, at all exaggerate the importance and gravity of the situation of this city with reference to the railroad problems that are now beginning to be developed around us. There is no need whatever for any "scare" on this subject, but there is necessity for Portland to act, and to act promptly and energetically, to make her future secure. She can command the situation if she will but comprehend what is necessary to be done, and take action accordingly. But she is not so situated and does not represent capital enough to enable her to sit still and compel all the railways to come to her doors. But by adopting a liberal and wise policy; by awakening to the fact that it is necessary to do something and then undertaking in earnest to do it, Portland may maintain her position as the chief city of the northwest. But she cannot do it by continuing inert, and allowing things hereafter to take their own course, as they have done heretofore.

The development of this great region of country, a development which has now fairly commenced, will inevitably change the whole order of things that has existed hitherto, give us new conditions of life and business, and present new and totally different problems for solution. Until now the growth of this country has been slow. It has grown from its own resources and has received but little aid from abroad. But now many new factors are being [illegible] in the problem. Millions of capital [illegible] places will shortly be invested [illegible] railway system around us. New [illegible] and industries of every description [illegible] called into being. The country will [illegible] more what it has been. Hereafter nothing [illegible] be left to chance. Prudence, calculation, sagacity and energy will win in the coming [illegible], and they who do not awake, but who sleep on as heretofore, will inevitably be left behind.

Portland now has her opportunity. Let her seize it, and she will grow great. Let her neglect it, and the fate that has overtaken other places that have remained asleep in times like these will be hers. The thing now to be done is to secure the west side road. If that project is suffered to fail the loss on real estate within three months will be more than twice one hundred thousand dollars.

What Do They M[illegible]?

Postmaster-General Creswell recently said: "I cannot understand what these Revenue Reformers mean. They must either intend to deceive the people or repudiate the debt." President Grant in his recent message observed that the so-called Revenue Reformers were uttering nothing but glittering generalities. They do not define what they want or what they mean. Reform is a popular word everywhere, but as a contemporary well says, it very often means nothing, and is simply a [illegible] practiced on the people. The fact [illegible] Republican party proper is a Revenue Reform party. We suppose this reform [illegible], if it means anything, a reduction of [illegible] burdens of taxation. Well, national taxation has been reduced $150,000,000 during [illegible] years; $80,000,000 were taken [illegible] of Congress! The 43d [illegible] probably make a further reduction [illegible] we incurred certain obligations [illegible] efforts to put down the rebellion, [illegible] which some of the reformers complain [illegible] price the country has to pay [illegible] treason. If the Revenue Reformers will only [illegible] their real purpose—that the [illegible] be paid, and that we shall re[illegible] and cover ourselves with [illegible] infamy and national ruin—they will [illegible] a great deal more sincere, and the country will be in a better position to decide for or against them. The Republican party can [illegible] to the people at any time when [illegible] is repudiation.

[illegible] the "litigant bill" is doing for the tax payers of Portland in the matter of the city printing will be understood when it is stated that advertising which has heretofore cost the [illegible] per square, will cost under the [illegible] regulations of the [illegible] per square. Difference [illegible] "litigant organ" and "against [illegible]" this method [illegible] economy and retrenchment," [illegible] for each and every square of advertisements published. Such is one feature of the [illegible] of the celebrated "litigant act." [illegible] are commanded by law to advertise in certain "organs" at an advance of six hundred per cent., and are warned not to advertise anywhere else. Now let the Legislature enact that no man shall buy any woolen goods in this State except at the store of Gov. Grover's factory company or its branches, and that the lawful price thereof shall be six dollars per yard, and a great step will be taken toward making our laws consistent in their shape and uniform in their operation. Also, let the Oro Fino drinking saloon in this city, which by virtue of its position at the head of the Democratic party, controls the affairs of Portland, runs Gov. Grover and the Legislature, and to a great extent controls the State, be licensed and designated under an amended "litigant act" as the only place in Portland where it shall be lawful to "take a drink," and another blemish of inconsistency and incongruity will be removed from our laws. The Legislature should attend to these and other little omissions in the "litigant act" as soon as possible. By all means let us have our laws consistent, uniform and harmonious.

We have read somewhere of Vincentius, a Roman, who thought himself too big to be taken through a door, and died from the effects of this imagination. Towns sometimes think themselves too big, and die feeding on imagination and ingloriously refusing either motion or effort. Leavenworth City, in Kansas, grew on railroad prospects to be a city of 20,000 people. Failing to move or act at the right time, and believing herself to be the mountain to which the railroad prophets and builders would be forced to come, the roads went elsewhere and now grass grows in her streets. Let Portland learn by such experiences to be on the watch for every opportunity and rise by well concerted movements to "occupy the heights." "There is a tide in the affairs of men which taken at the flood," etc. But if it isn't taken at the flood, it leaves the navigator, nine times in ten, high and dry.

A [illegible] affray occurred on Sunday night at Port Gamble, W. T. Two men, Lemm and Wm. Murphy by name, had a slight quarrel, when Lemm grabbed a hammer and struck Murphy over the temple, injuring him very seriously if not fatally.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JANUARY 5.

What King William will Do.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 3.—King William has abandoned the idea of entering Paris upon capitulation. The forts of Paris are to be garrisoned and provisioned for two years, and the Germans are to hold Alsace, Lorraine, Belfort, Bitche, and the line of communication with Paris. After unconditional surrender, which will alone be accepted, the Guardes army are to be made responsible for the preservation of order in the Capital, and the Corps Legislatif will be summoned to meet on the 3d of the following month.

London Dispatches.

LONDON, Jan 4.—Bourbaki has divided his forces, one column moving on Chalons, the other on Orleans via Gien. Reports that Austria is about to send a Plenipotentiary to Versailles are authoritatively contradicted.

By the surrender of Mezieres, 2,000 prisoners and 108 guns fell into the hands of the Germans.

The Duke of Cambridge is to be succeeded by Lord Napier, of Magdala, as Commander-in-Chief of the army, and Cardwell as Secretary of War.—England is determined to arm.

From Madrid.

MADRID, Jan. 5.—The Cabinet will probably be composed of the following members: De Rodas, Secretary of War, Alazaza, Secretary of State; Lopez, Secretary of the Navy. The Liberals seem to be in the ascendant.

Marshal Prim's body was removed to-day to the church of Atocha without disturbance. There were 6,000 people in the procession. The officers, deputies, members of the Cabinet and various diplomatic bodies, followed on foot. The carriage in which he was assassinated, was in the procession. It is riddled with bullets and the glass windows shattered. The body lies in state in the church, guarded by the invalides until Thursday.

Indiana Legislature.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 4.—The Legislature meets to-morrow. The Democrats have a majority in the House, and the Republicans a majority of two in the Senate.

Michigan Legislature

LANSING, Jan. 4.—The Legislature met to-day but transacted no business of importance. The House organized.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—In the Senate, the Vice President announced as a select committee to consider certain charges against Senator Sprague in connection with blockade running in Texas during the rebellion, Messrs. Thurman, Hamlin, Trumbull, Howe and Miller.

The House proceeded to the consideration of resolutions reported from the Committee on Foreign Affairs in relation to the dispute between Minister Washburne and the late Government of Paraguay. The resolutions of the committee declare that Rear Admiral S. W. Gordon in neglecting to aid Washburne in reaching the Government to which he was accredited, failed to discharge his duty as Commander of the South Atlantic Squadron; that Bliss and Masterman were members of the personal suite of Washburne, and were, therefore, under the laws of nations, entitled to the protection of officers of the United States; that the forcible arrest and detention of Bliss and Masterman by the Government of Paraguay was a violation of the law of nations and a gross insult to the honor and dignity of the United States. They approve the action of the President of the United States in withdrawing the American Minister, Gen. McMahon, from the Government of Paraguay, and in declining to have further diplomatic intercourse with that government, and they declare it to be clearly the duty of United States naval officers in foreign stations to render all reasonable assistance to diplomatic officers of the United States in the discharge of their duties, and that refusal or neglect to render such assistance, when required, or any discourtesy by such naval officers to such diplomatic officers should be a subject of inquiry and punishment by the Navy Department.

Orth moved an additional resolution, disapproving of the conduct of Rear Admiral Charles H. Davis, in delaying for an unreasonable time to proceed to the rescue of Messrs. Bliss and Masterman, and in accepting their release in the manner and under the circumstances detailed in the testimony, and in receiving, holding and treating them as prisoners.

A resolution was offered by Swain, from the minority of the committee, denouncing the arrest and detention of Bliss and Masterman, while under the protection of the American flag, as an outrage which demanded prompt reparation, and condemning Washburne for having submitted to the insult of President Lopez, and having left Bliss and Masterman to the mercy of the Paraguayan authorities, and for not having assumed a hostile or unfriendly attitude toward President Lopez and the Paraguayan Government, and for having reported Bliss and Masterman both adventurers, of doubtful reputation, with his legation. They relieve Admirals Gordon and Davis from all blame and declare that no legislation on the subject is required on the part of Congress.

A New Apportionment of Congressmen.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Judge Mercer has not yet brought the subject of a new apportionment before the House Judiciary Committee, but it is the general opinion that the Committee will be in favor of increasing the members to 280, which would probably prevent the necessity of reducing representation in any State. New Hampshire is the only State which would not be certain of escaping a reduction if the number was fixed at 280, and the only difficulty seems to be to find a number not unreasonably large, which will save that State the loss of one of her three Representatives.

Wheeler, of New York, expects to call up at an early day the motion to reconsider the vote which defeated last session the bill to give to the Central Pacific Railroad the free use of Goat Island in San Francisco bay, now the property of the United States.

The bill was lost by a bare majority, and friends of the railroad claim to be able to pass it.

It is rumored again in Washington that Senator Morton will succeed Secretary Fish after the adjournment of the Indiana Legislature in March.

It is understood that all the officers of both Houses will be candidates for re-election by the 42d Congress.

Army Matters.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A general order has just been promulgated from the War Department making extensive transfers, assignments and musters out. Among unassigned officers whose commissions expire under the Act of July 15th, 1870, and who were honorably mustered out, are Lt.-Cols. Chas. J. Whitney and J. N. Eddie, Majors S. A. Gordon, Wm. Clinton, Jas. B. Collins, Ebenezer Gay, Samuel Ross, John M. Goodhue and Henry Rathbone, and a large number of Captains and 1st and 2d Lieutenants.

EASTERN STATES.

Maine Politics.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 5.—The Senate Committee on Gubernatorial votes reported that Sidney Perham has 54,901 votes, and Charles W. Roberts 45,733. [illegible] In the convention, State officers of last year were elected on an average of 146 votes to 35 for Democratic candidates. The Governor was inaugurated at 12 o'clock to day.

Dispatch from New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—A feature of the trial yesterday in the case of the seized vessel Florida, involving the neutrality of the United States in Cuban affairs, was the production of letters from Ex-Secretary Cox, in accordance with which the accused claims that he has acted throughout.

The steamer Concordia, which cleared yesterday for Falmouth, England, where she will await orders for proceeding to France, took 4,424 cases of ammunition, 1,700 cases of cartridges, 250 cases of muskets, 1,000 cases of rifles, and other munitions for the French.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—Col. Von Schmidt, who blew Blossom Rock out of the harbor of San Francisco and accomplished other great engineering feats, leaves for the East, overland, to-morrow.

A. N. Coleman, since the commencement of suits against him by Alvinso Hayward, his late partner, has been called on to resign the position of President of the Merchants' Exchange Bank. He did so to-day, and Levi Stevens, of Stevens, Baker & Co., was elected in his place.

The council for Mrs. Fair made an ineffectual attempt to get Judge Stanley to bring her case before the Grand Jury of San Francisco to day. The case is under investigation by the Grand Jury in Alameda county, and the jurisdiction is not yet settled.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—Sunset this evening was the most magnificent ever witnessed in San Francisco, and such as is seldom seen outside the tropics. Many people were out on Russian Hill watching it.

The policy of exempting from taxation for a limited time those who establish new branches of industry in Virginia is urged by the Richmond State Journal, that paper believing that agriculture has had its day, and that the Old Dominion must become a great manufacturing and commercial State.

OREGON.

There are no more cases of smallpox among the Indians on Grand Ronde Reservation.

The attorney who assisted Messrs. Shuck and Townsend, of Yamhill county, in obtaining seats in the Legislature to which they were not entitled, has been compelled to sue them for his fees. He should have known that such men would "chisel" him out of his pay if they could.

The Yamhill paper, noticing what a job Portland is making of raising $100,000 for a railroad, say: It seems like drawing eye teeth for men to donate a dollar when they know it will yield two or three in return. Albany makes a good deal of sport about the grunting they make over $100,000, when Albany raised half the amount with perfect ease, and made a mighty good investment of their money, too.

From the Statesman: Five weeks ago a resident of Linn county, named Theodore M. Smith, left Portland on horseback, by the west side of the river for home, and the last known of him he was leading his horse up the mountain just out of that city. Yesterday his brother and another man went through here, making a second trip in search of him. It is feared he met with some mishap or has been foully dealt with.

A Strange Surrender.

Under the above heading the Bulletin of yesterday had the following:

In the matter of classing the city printing under the provisions of the Litigant law, the City Attorney has conceded just what the Litigant organ demanded. It seems to us like a surrender without firing a shot. In a matter of so much importance, it occurs to us, the City Attorney might well have long hesitated in giving his opinion. He could easily have waited and permitted the question to be brought before the Courts, wherein fact the determination of the validity of the odious law ought to be finally decided. We will warrant that, had the Council and the Attorney been Democrats, and a Republican organ had made such a demand as the Litigant organ did, the Council would have disregarded it, and the City Attorney would have acted very differently from the manner in which the Attorney has acted in this instance. It is not our funeral, however, and we have no more than a common interest in the case. We will say, nevertheless, if the Republicans in office will on every occasion surrender at call in this way to the Democrats, they will have nobody but themselves to blame if, in election times, they find none to back them. The file have no heart for a fight in which they feel their officers will at once strike their colors to the foe.

SOMETHING MORE ABOUT KALAMA.—Whatever may be the relative chances of this new town to future greatness, the public mind is considerably excited about it just now, and everybody is interested in learning something about its geographical location, physical features of the place, etc. With a view to satisfying this general inquiry we give the following items of information [illegible] from maps shown us by Contractor Tilton. The town site proper is located about five miles above Carroll's Landing, and [illegible] above the mouth of Kalama creek. The company have here 1,600 acres of land [illegible] purchased the whole or a [illegible] pre-emption claims [illegible] river front of two and a half miles [illegible] town site, or that part of it upon which the company will first commence operations [illegible] upper end of the tract. Along the river the land is overflowed at highest water. In 1862 the highest water ever known, the high ridge [illegible] the bank was about two feet under water. [illegible] the back the depth of overflow was [illegible] ing from two to fifteen feet. The [illegible] land thus subject to overflow, is from [illegible] feet wide at the upper end of the [illegible] wider at the lower [illegible] [illegible]

A HARD[illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] would be a profitable crop [illegible] grown here would [illegible] barley for feed [illegible] that our State should [illegible] California a crop which we could raise here as cheaply as our neighbors can. Why do not some of our enterprising farmers turn their attention to barley?

PROSPECTIVE BUILDINGS AT EAST PORTLAND.—We heard it stated [illegible] are under contract for [illegible] stores at East Portland [illegible] erected in the spring. [illegible] that Portland's [illegible] ful enough to retain the [illegible] whole sale trade of this country. Should the railroads centre at depots on the East side, how long would it be before we should hear of other wholesale establishments going up at East Portland?

FLOUR SHIPMENT.—The steamer California will take away to-morrow a considerable amount of flour. The ten freight cars standing for two or three days on the track at East Portland are loaded with flour belonging to [illegible] & Myers and that and about as much more from this side from their mills, (the "Commercial") is to go on the steamer.

STREET GRADING AT EAST PORTLAND.—It will require about one hundred thousand cubic yards of fill to complete the grade of E and Second streets, East Portland, at 12 cents per yard, or $12,000 for the entire job. A portion of E street is to be graded by heavy excavation and a force of hands is now at work digging down the [illegible] near the late Mr. Clinton's residence.

ELEGANT RENDERING.—Yesterday we heard an elegant rendering of the phrase, "gone up the spout." In polite language, that performance is now called "ascending the tin tube."

THE MONEY SUPPLY.—As indicating the plentifulness of money, the fact may be noted that advertisements of money to loan are becoming frequent.

WEATHER MARKET.—The weather may now be quoted as in its "normal condition." [illegible] "normal," yesterday was [illegible]

ANNUAL ELECTION.—The Emmet Guard will hold a meeting this evening to elect officers for the ensuing year.

CISTERN COMPLETED.—The fire cistern at the corner of C and Ninth streets has been completed and is now ready for use.

CITY.

MORE ABOUT KALAMA.—Whatever may be the relative chances of this new town for future greatness, the public mind is considerably exercised about it just now, and everybody is interested in learning something about the geography, location, physical features of the place etc With a view to satisfying this general inquiry we give the following items of information obtained from maps shown us by Colonel Tilton The town site proper is located about five miles above Carroll's Landing, and nearly two miles above the mouth of Kalama creek. The company own here 1 500 acres of land in one body, having purchased the whole or a part of several donation or pre-emption claims The tract has a river front of two and a half miles The principal town site or that part of it upon which the company will first commence operations, is near the upper end of the tract Along the river the land was overflowed at highest water In 1862, the highest water ever known, the high ridge along the bank was about two feet under water Further back the depth of overflow was various, ranging from two to fifteen feet The strip of low land thus subject to overflow, is from 700 to 1,600 feet wide at the upper end of the city plat, and wider at the lower end Where the company have proposed to erect their warehouses and headquarters, the overflow extends but a short way from the bank, and the land rises gradually to the level of the plateau lying back of the Columbia river bottom, at the height of 196 feet above the river This plateau, which is situate in the heart of the town site, rises rather abruptly from the river bottom to the height of 196, and on the surface is regular and nearly level to the mountain range for a mile or more Its form is semi circular, as it lies between the Kalama creek on the north, and a large spring branch on the south. To provide for reaching it easily when any grading shall be done there is a wide street laid around its base, semi circular in its form, which rises by gradual and easy ascent at either end to the level of the plateau. The whole tract may be easily and cheaply supplied with spring water obtained on the tract. The town plat begins immediately at the bank of the river The street through which the railroad has been located is 150 feet wide, all other streets are 80 feet. The streets parallel with the river are named River, Front, Second, Third, etc. The traverse streets are named after Oregon woods, beginning at the upper end of the plat, the names being arranged in alphabetical order The company has already located its headquarters, depots, shops and wharves, and they appear on the plat. The headquarters building is already under contract and is in course of erection, and the company is getting out timber and lumber for [illegible] one opposite the headquarters and another opposite the depot and machine shops. The river has been sounded in front of the entire city plat, and the lines are marked off on the plat showing the depth everywhere at low water. The first line of soundings, at an average distance of fifty feet from the shore, shows a depth of water ranging generally from 18 to 21 feet, one place only showing as shallow as 16 feet. The next line, one hundred feet from the shore shows a trifle deeper water We learn from Col. Tilton that the company is not ready to sell lots, the surveys not having yet been completed, but we did not ascertain from him the probable time of the opening of sales. There are already quite a number of people there waiting an opportunity to invest, and we learn from outside sources that many in all parts of the country are preparing to go there with a view [illegible]

RAILROAD MEETING.—Posters were up all over the city yesterday, announcing the railroad meeting to be held at the Court House, Saturday evening, and appealing strongly to the entire population to turn out to it. Several gentlemen from [illegible] are announced as among the speakers. We notice the names of J W Nesmith, [illegible] Col Cornelius and others. We [illegible] we shall also hear from a number of [illegible] of this city There is much anxiety [illegible] the last few days, by the friends of the road, as to the fate of the subscription [illegible] and the course pursued by certain wealthy people whose names do not as yet appear among the subscribers, is exciting much [illegible]. The committee is certainly making [illegible] effort to succeed To-day, the address of the committee, which was published [illegible] in the OREGONIAN, will be circulated everywhere, printed in single page sheets, [illegible] which every man should read [illegible] consider It states the situation [illegible] and without any needless mouthing [illegible] Attend the meeting, to-morrow night !

A MIXED-UP EDITOR.—One of the Eastern Oregon [illegible] noted for any alarming degree [illegible] comes to hand with the following paragraph at the head of its editorial column (so [illegible]

"We are having nice times now—if a horn [illegible] come and go with a commendable regularity, but they bring very little of interest to an editor. We believe we have not had a daily [illegible] last Sunday. The Mountaineer states [illegible] this river is closed up, and of course that cuts off all our dailies from Portland. If we don't receive some dailies next week, we will be hard put to it to find material for our columns. But we shall draw largely on our [illegible] (alias brain), and publish the [illegible] as usual."

Well, really, [illegible] a philanthropist and full of [illegible] milk of kindness toward the unfortunate [illegible], we sincerely hope that the [illegible] did get the Portland dailies before [illegible] forced to the dire necessity of resorting [illegible] threatened, and that his readers [illegible] the infliction of "alias brain."

WONDERED AT.—We happened into a [illegible] produce store yesterday, just as one of [illegible] was writing a dispatch to be sent to San Francisco, ordering a shipment of ten tons of [illegible] by the first steamer, and forty tons by the [illegible] sailing vessel In wonder we asked the [illegible] if barley would not grow well in this [illegible] and received for answer that it could not [illegible] better nor yield better in any country in [illegible] world than in the Wallamet valley, that it would be a profitable crop; but that the amount [illegible] here would scarcely supply the demand of [illegible] size brewery, to say nothing of [illegible] for feed It must certainly be wondered [illegible] our State should still continue to buy of [illegible] a crop which we could raise here as [illegible] as our neighbors can. Why do not some [illegible] farmers turn their attention [illegible] to-day?

[illegible] BUILDING AT EAST PORTLAND.—[illegible] heard it stated yesterday that the brick are [illegible] contract for an entire block of wholesale [illegible] at East Portland, the building to be erected [illegible] spring. There may be a hint in this fact [illegible] Portland's "start" is not altogether power[illegible] enough to retain the whole bulk of the whole [illegible] trade of this country Should the railroads [illegible] on the East side, how long would [illegible] other wholesale establishments are going up at East Portland?

FLOUR SHIPMENT.—The steamer California [illegible] take away to-morrow a considerable amount [illegible] flour. The ten freight cars standing for two [illegible] three days on the track at East Portland are [illegible] with flour belonging to Williams & Myers, [illegible] about as much more from this side, [illegible] mills, (the "Commercial") is to go into [illegible]

STREET GRADING AT EAST PORTLAND.—It will [illegible] about one hundred thousand cubic yards [illegible] to complete the grade of B and Second [illegible] East Portland, at 35 cents per yard, or [illegible] for the entire job A portion of B street [illegible] be graded by heavy excavation and a force [illegible] is now at work digging down the point [illegible] the late Mr. Clinton's residence

ELEGANT RENDERING.—Yesterday we heard an [illegible] rendering of the phrase, "gone up the [illegible]" In polite language, that performance is [illegible] called "ascending the tin tube "

THE MONEY SUPPLY.—As indicating the plenty of money, the fact may be noted that [illegible] of money to loan are becoming frequent.

WEATHER MARKET.—The weather may now be quoted as in its "normal condition Very normal," yesterday was."

ANNUAL ELECTION.—The Emmet Guard will hold a meeting this evening to elect officers for the ensuing year

CISTERN COMPLETED.—The fire cistern at the corner of C and Ninth streets has been completed and is now ready for use

TO SAIL.—The steamship California will sail for San Francisco on Saturday, the 7th, at 3 o'clock P M

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER.—Mrs Bates' benefit last evening, as is usually the case when she asks a favor of the public, was a rousing success The front of the house was crowded to its fullest capacity and the pit was well filled There has not been so large an audience the entire season, and it was a truly appreciative audience too The drama of "Christmas Eve or the Old and the Young Wife," was produced in a style of excellence to which we should do but poor justice in ordinary words Mrs Bates' personation of the old wife, and her dressing of the character were very correct in conception and taste The vindictive jealousy and rage manifested upon learning that her young husband was in love with another woman young and beautiful, was a splendid piece of acting So, too was her scene, as the young wife, with the now jealous husband upon his discovery that she did not love him But both these were surpassed by the closing scene upon the poor, false wife and mistress of a heartless villain when she meets her wronged husband She made this scene very dramatic and affecting The closing tableau was one of those beautiful pictures that an audience of the least appreciation wants to see again, and this instance was no exception—it was enthusiastically encored Mrs Bates' Gertrude, in the "Loan of a Lover," was a charming bit of acting It is due to the other gentlemen and ladies of the company to say that, in both pieces, the beneficiary was effectively supported The drama of "Christmas Eve will be repeated again to night for the last time, to be followed by the farce of "A Ghost, in spite of Himself," in which there will be fun enough to make even a ghost laugh

THE COURTS.

COUNTY COURT—HAMILTON, JUDGE.—In the case of Walter Bros vs. Jennie McCarty, action on account for goods sold, tried Wednesday and submitted, the jury returned a verdict for plaintiffs, $242 currency

Charles True vs. F N. Bacon, N. Goodman and Herman Holback, motion of plaintiff to require defendants to make their answer more specific, argued and then withdrawn by permission of the Court, with leave to file amended complaint on Saturday next

The Court adjourned till 10 A M to-morrow

A BRACE OF COMPARISONS.—While the proposition to raise $100,000 for the west side railroad is hanging fire and the subscription is dragging its slow length along, it may be not amiss to cite the example of two towns on the east side of the river which do not claim to be wealthy. The town of Albany, in about three weeks raised for the O and C railroad $50,000. Portland, with her own future in the balance, has in three weeks raised less than $40,000 for the west side road which, completed, would pour liberal wealth into her coffers. Yesterday we heard an East Portland man say that taking into account the donations and sales to the O. & C. railroad, below the present cash value of the lands, East Portland had given $117,000 for a railroad terminus We do not doubt it. And yet the land given and sold (the latter at prices which were high before the road was built, and without the road would to day be high) have made the land owners twice or thrice richer than they were before. Lands all along the line of that road have gone up 50 to 100 per cent, and the present prices are not merely prices asked, but they are the prices at which the lands sell With all these examples before us, Portland higgles and squirms and halts about giving $100,000 to secure a railroad and terminus which would in two years return the gift with large interest. There is a wisdom which is foolishness.

BUSINESS NOTICES.—Henry Gansz, an old acquaintance of the people of Portland, has re-opened a first-class meat market at his old stand, corner of First and Oak streets

A valuable tract of land, of 130 acres, known as the Fulton property, and being a part of the original donation claim of Thomas Stevens, will be sold at auction, by Mr A B Richardson, on Saturday at 2 o'clock P M, at the Court House door. For terms and other particulars, see advertisement of the executrix and executor of the estate of H C Northrup

Wm A. Frey & Co, of San Francisco are early in the field with valentines They advertise a superior stock and promise to sell at the lowest prices

THE SINGING SCHOOL in the basement of the Baptist Church will be on Tuesday and Friday evenings hereafter An invitation is extended to all

December is here, with her storms and her rain,
And it makes the folks of cold weather complain
Hark ye, dear gentlemen this need not be so,
You can all be kept warm for O NEIL & CO
Can fit you so nicely, so snug and so warm,
With CLOTHES that are proof 'gainst the bitterest storm,
And they sell them so cheaply, that all who go there,
Unlike Flora McFlimsey can find something to wear

Pimples on the face Eruptions, Blotches, Scrofulous Diseases and all sores arising from impure blood, are cured by Dr Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. For [illegible] and all [illegible] and lingering coughs it is unequaled. It cleanses, purifies and strengthens the system. GRAND GIFT CONCERT,
To take place at the Marysville Theater, Wednesday,
February 1, 1871.

The Drawing will be conducted in a precisely similar manner to that of the late Gift Concert of the Mercantile Library Association in San Francisco and a Committee of prominent citizens duly appointed to superintend the distribution of Gifts.

A discount of ten (10) per cent will be made to all purchasers of Fifty Tickets, or more, payable in Tickets.

If the Tickets are all disposed of before the time now given the Concert and distribution of Gifts will take place before the first day of February, 1871 In that event ten days notice will be given through the public press

The particular attention of the Farming Community is called to our recent importation of Improved MOLINE PLOWS greatly superior to any other Moline Plow in the Market, notwithstanding a certain firm, somewhat noted for truth and veracity—"so called"—persist in affirming that they are bogus, "California made," etc

Don't fail to call and look at one of the MOLINE PLOW Co.'s LATEST MAKE and we think you will conclude with a Yamhill Farmer who after looking round, and hearing the old story about bogus Molines, etc., delivered himself thusly "Well Myers I'll just chance a couple of those new plows, and if they are 'bogus,' as that gassy chap above here says, I ll be d—d if I won't take bogus in mine every time "

Next month we expect another shipment of those justly celebrated BAIN WAGONS, (Have now only a few left of the last lot,) STILL FURTHER IMPROVED over all heretofore received It is not presumption on our part to say that they are head and shoulders above any other Farm wagon in market in point of material, workmanship and finish having achieved a reputation throughout the West and wherever introduced on the Pacific, second to no other wagon Some of the first sold here—three years ago,—have never yet had a tire re-set, and our experience has enabled us to order many changes and improvements over the ordinary make of western wagons to meet the wants and requirements of this coast. We shall sell the BAIN WAGON at the lowest possible price for a first class wagon, and WARRANT them such, and in this connection beg to caution purchasers not to confound them with "inferior makes that others are, or may endeavor to sell on the strength of the established reputation of the Bain manufacture particularly after having made repeated and persistent efforts (without avail) to purchase wagons of Mr Bain for this market

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

PORTLAND, Thursday, Jan 5, 1871.

Gold at New York has stood through the week steadily at 110¼

San Francisco price of legal tenders, 90½@91c.

Portland currency quotations, 90@91c

Exchange on San Francisco—coin, ¼ of 1 per cent.; currency, ½ per cent

Exchange on New York, 1¼ per cent; telegraph transfers, 1¾ per cent.

U S 5 20 bonds quotable at 108@110½ for 1862 and 1867.

Rates of interest unchanged, at 1@1½ per cent.

Oregon Bounty and Relief bonds, 65a67½c. State warrants, 97c@par.

The customs receipts at this port for the quarter ending Dec 31st were as follows

Duties on imports (coin)	$82,303 32
Other customs receipts (currency)	1,896 68
Total	$84,199 50

The money market remains about as heretofore quoted About the only considerable demand is for real [illegible] investments. Collections in city and county [illegible] ately easy.

There is nothing new to note in business circles Trade is generally very quiet and quotations remain undisturbed—a condition of things naturally to be expected at this season of the year.

The produce market is also quiet, but steady at the quotations given last week. The Montgomery Castle sailed on Wednesday for Liverpool, with 46,032 bushels, valued at $61,470 63.

The steamship California brought up only 130 tons freight. She will sail for San Francisco on Saturday, with a fair cargo of miscellaneous produce.

The bark Gangner is nearly loaded with wheat at the Clinton Point dock. She will probably sail within the coming week for England. The Franz Propontis is awaiting charter.

Our newspaper advices from San Francisco to the 31st ult [illegible] fresh butter scarce and in good demand at 33c [illegible]. Eggs plentiful at 65c per dozen, with a tendency to lower points. Cross' Oregon Hams retailing at 25c per lb. [illegible] price as Chicago [illegible] New Oregon Bacon selling at 20c per lb., Cross' Oregon Shoulders, 12c per lb. Fresh Oregon Apple Butter, retailing at 20c per lb. Cabbages scarce, a good article selling readily at higher rates.

[illegible] of Nov. 26th quote Oregon lumber at $45 [illegible] quote Wheat and Barley [illegible] Flour, $5 75@ [illegible] 100 lbs.

[illegible] the trade between San Francisco and China and [illegible] during the year 1870 [illegible] steamers and [illegible] vessels have [illegible] direct from this port. Of [illegible] There were six sailing [illegible] in March, four in February, two in [illegible] June and October, and one in April, [illegible] and December. The value of the merchandise [illegible] was $165,452, and that [illegible] distributed as follows:

	Steam.	Sail.	Total.
[illegible]	$8[illegible],979	$729,285	$1,105,264
[illegible]	9[illegible],473	35,432	487,905
Totals	[illegible]	$864,767	$1,593,219

[illegible] treasure shipped from San Francisco to Asia [illegible] year has been sent by the steamers, and aggregates $[illegible] 149 distributed between China and [illegible] as follows

	China.	Japan.	Total.
[illegible]	$6 241 [illegible]	$1 391,569	$7,632,449
[illegible]	[illegible],264	567,955	1,593,219
[illegible]	$[illegible] 144	$1,579,524	$9,225,668

[illegible] leading articles of domestic produce [illegible] the foregoing exports are as [illegible]

	Quantities.	Values
[illegible]	155,767	$[illegible],809
Wheat, centals	14,391	[illegible],020
Barley	[illegible]	23,783
[illegible]	7,863	[illegible],000
[illegible]	6,000	123,259
Wine pkgs	550	4,0[illegible]

The above articles foot up a value of $9[illegible],000, or 60 [illegible] of the total exports [illegible] Wheat [illegible] went to China, the Barley, and Oats [illegible] for Japan while the Wine was about [illegible] divided between the two countries. In [illegible] 155 [illegible] to China and Japan, [illegible] other articles shipped to the [illegible] same year were 24 300 centals [illegible] 3,060 centals Oats, 12,000 [illegible] 350 pkgs Wine. The value of the [illegible] China and Japan for 1870 compares [illegible] with previous years:

LAND DEPARTMENT OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd-numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminous with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary, he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim, he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect. I. R. MOORES,

52tf dlaw Land Agent O. & C. R. R. Co, Salem

OF

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON.

I [illegible] NOW PREPARED TO RECEIVE [illegible] hundred [illegible] the books were [illegible] and a large [illegible] been taken

[illegible] from the City [illegible] a good idea of the plan [illegible] the location of the land [illegible]

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

[illegible] of whom [illegible] a few days since, [illegible] As is with [illegible] Riverside Homestead Association [illegible] that kind in this [illegible] state what are the [illegible] in which it is [illegible] The [illegible] Associations are not at all [illegible] sense of the word [illegible] advance in the value of their [illegible] quent upon the [illegible] and the idea [illegible] surrounding lands by [illegible] near the city. The [illegible] Association has a fraction over one [illegible] twenty acres of land [illegible] on the east side of the [illegible] boundary line being [illegible] ending at East Portland. [illegible] one strip along the Willamette river, [illegible] length and another strip along the [illegible] railroad half a mile in [illegible] strips being connected near the [illegible] with a street between them, the whole forming a figure not unlike the letter H [illegible] 74 blocks, 200 feet [illegible] streets running at right angles [illegible] along the river front. The [illegible] 800 worth $60 per share. It will be [illegible] a share that represents nearly a lot [illegible] vided interest in the 80 [illegible] shares are to be sold off at [illegible] for the benefit of the [illegible] for the [illegible] number of shares held. When all [illegible] taken and the Association [illegible] it the choice of lots [illegible] will be put up at auction [illegible] bidder the proceeds of such sales, after the original price of shares or lots [illegible] equally among the whole number [illegible] Thus if a person wants a [illegible] and is willing to pay $100 or [illegible] or less as the case may be [illegible] the lot or block, as his [illegible] premium being divided among the [illegible] of shareholders It will be [illegible] everything is so operative, and [illegible] No man can make a dollar [illegible] making a dollar for [illegible] shareholder There is no [illegible] the property by some shape, [illegible] the first actual cost [illegible] liable to happen in the case of [illegible] tract of land must be judged by [illegible] but considering the steady and [illegible] vance on real estate in this city [illegible] and at East Portland [illegible] last year or two, it seems [illegible] values to go back

In the Riverside Association all [illegible] to have been taken to [illegible] monopolies of shares. No p[illegible] buy more than the number of shares [illegible] three blocks or twenty four lots, [illegible] terminating the operations of the [illegible] restricted in the same way [illegible] shares may pay down $50 per [illegible] exempt them from all as[illegible] pay $15 quarterly with [illegible] share payable with the first [illegible] liable in this latter case to [illegible] of $2 per [illegible] payment of the shares in full, [illegible] as above the holder is entitled to [illegible] and his proportion of all the [illegible] pay for surveys except [illegible] per month [illegible] expenses must be light

The part of the tract lying along the [illegible] a high plateau nearly level, about [illegible] above the water. There is no part of the [illegible] Portland and the river for miles up and down stream. That part of the tract lying along the railroad is every foot of it, of the [illegible] and adapted to gardening [illegible] little stream of pure water [illegible] entire length of this [illegible] the means of irrigation, and [illegible] to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract. There is not a waste [illegible] entire tract.
